

Department of the political science.

Semester: 3.(CC-7)

Local Government in India

Local Government in India is the study of local organizations, decentralisation governance system, political participation in local bodies and ecc. Students can learn the following from the subject matter :-

- Students know the different local bodies in India, including Gram Panchayat, Panchayat samiti, jila Parishad and municipality.
- Students can analyze 73rd and 74th constitutional amendments which mandate the establishment and function of local self governing bodies.
- Increase political participation and political awareness in local Governmental bodies.
- Students examining the strengths and weakness of local governance model in different Indian states.
- Students identify the key responsibilities of local bodies such as meaning sanitation, health, water, primary education local economy activities.